PISO'S CURE FOR S

"DEPARTED-Urey Woodson has come and gone. Several months ago be arrived fresh from Owensboro on a apecial train to take charge of the Dispatch. Il is hyperion curla floated in the breeze as he walked into the Dispatch office, with an antograph letter Irom W. J. Bryan in hia inside pocket and the light of geniua shining in his eye. I telt sure that there was trouble with the Dispatch's insides when they sent for Dr. Woodson. Whenever impractical politiclans start a newapaper they never consider the necessity of having a practical journalist at the helm until It is too late to save the patient. At any rate Woodson arrived, and whatever else may be said of him, he certainly did improve the typographical appearance of the Dispatch and cut down its expenses. But the fact that he has packed up 'his curl papers and gone back to Owensboro looks a little suspicious. For Urey is a man of parts. He does not skirnk at any ordinary task. He is n member of the National Democratic Committee and gets a bullitin from W. J. Bryan every twenty-four hours. He nominated Shackelford for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. He runa two newspapera at Owensboro, one daily and the other weekly, and it would not have been any trouble to him to bave managed the Dispatch also. Last Saturday week Mr. Woodaon, although he came here in a special car, went back to Daviess county In a day amoker. In the meantime Mr. Enloe is editor and manager of the Dispatch, and what changes the next few weeks may bring lorth nobody can tell. There are all soits of rumors on newspaper row, but I leave it to some less friendly tongue to repeat them."

Sot Unmindint. President McKinley, in pursuance ol a promise made a year ago, addressed the Commercial Club at Cincinnati at their annual dinner Saturday night. He came with the distinct understanding that the whole affair was to be strictly outside of politics, and his address conformed to that under-atanding. The concluding paragraph however, entirely appropriate in addressing a body of business mer, showa that he bears in mind the causea which induced the commercial men of the country so generally to vote for him. As soon as he came into effice he called Congress to !gether to provide more revenue, the immediate need of the hour as he was pledged to do, the appointment of a commission to see it arrangements for International bimetallism could be made. He then nrged in the line of another pledge, the appointment of a commission to consider a reform of the currency, and that he is as mindful of that pledge as of the othera is shown by this concluding passage of his Cincinnati address: 'Finally, il we are entering upon an era of prosperity, such as many believe and all fervently hope, remembering our recent panic and financial experiences, we should strengthen the weak places in our financial aystem and remove it forever from ambiguty and doubt."-[Commercial.

A Spelling-Bee,

"f'm going to have a apelling bee to-night," said Uncle John, "and I'll give a pair of skates to the boy who can best spell 'man.' " The children turned and stared into one another's eyes. "Best spell 'man,' Uncle John? Why, there are only one way!" the cried. "There are all sorts of ways," replied Uucle John. leave you think of it a while " And be buttoned up his coat and went

Time went slowly to the puzzled boys for all their lun that day. It seemed as if that alter supper time would never come; but it came at last and Uncle John came, too, with a shiny skate-runner peeping out of his great coat pocket. Uncle John did not delay. Ite sat down and looked straight into Harry's eyes.

'Been a good boy to doy, Hal?" "Yes-110," sald Harry, flushing. 'I did something Aunt Mag told me not to dof because Ned Barnes dared I can't' bear a boy to dare me. What's that to do with spelling

'man?' '' he added half to himself. But Uncle John turned to Bob. 'Had a good day, my boy?"

"Havn't had fun enough," answered Bob stoutly. "It's all Jo'a fault. too. We boys wanted the pond to ourselves for one day; and we made up our minds that, when the girls came, we'd clear them off. But Jo,

"I think this is Jo's to tell," interrupted Uncle John. 'How was it, boy?"

"Why," said Jo, "I thought the girls had as much right on the pond as the boys So I spoke to one or two ot the bigger boys, and they thought so, too; and we stopped it all. I thought it was mean to treat girls that way." There was a flash from Uncle John's pocket. The next minute the skates were on Jo's knee. "The spelling match is over," said Uncle John, "and Jo has won the prize." Three bewildered faces mute. ly questioned him. "Boys," he answered gravely, "we've been spelling 'man,' not in letters, but in acts. I told you there were different ways. and we've proved it here to-night. Think over it. boys, and see."

IMPOVERISHED SILVER STATES.

Are the Most Hapid Accumulators of Wealth in the World, Says Molhali, The inhabitants of the l'acific states of America (iu which term Mr. Mulhall, in his concluding article on "The Progress of the United States" in the North American Review, Includes Colorado, Utah, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming as well as California, Nerada, Oregon and Wushington) are by farthe rapidest uccumulators of nealth in the In the 20 years preceding the last census they lakl up four times as much treasure on earth as did Americans generally, their annual increase of richea per capita being $156, as against $39 for the whole union. Their farmayleld more than twice as much grain as the average American farm-30 tons to the formhand, as against 22 in the prairie. 7 in the southern, 8 in the eastern and 14 in ail the states. They have ninefolded their total wealth in 20 years, t7 of those years clapsing since the "crime" (which they invented and lament) "of t$73." They were worth $f27,000,000 In 1870 and $6,811,000,000 in 1890. Since that year, as before that year, they have enjoyed annually the advantage shared by none of their feltow Americans of taking 53 tons of one precious metal (gold) and 1,800 tons of the other precious metal (silver) out af the ground. This yearly product, worth $100,000,000, "exceeds," according to this authoriative statistician. "the value of precious metals that any country has yet produced in the history of mankind."

But this wealth is a mere additional godsend, a windfall, to people enriched already in the ordinary ladustries of their country. Their precious metal output is little over a third of their ngricultural product of $294,000,000 a year. It is not very much more than a fourth of their manufacturing output of $360,000,000 a year, which quadrupled in the 20 years between 1870 and

These are the "whole states" whom a temperate and discreet "blmetaliist" English authority on American affaira, Mr. Moreton Frewen, saw "goaded Into fury" by the lash of porerty which the gold standard laid on their ragged backs. These are the people to whoth in 15 years we, the rest of the country, the $39 average wealth people, the t4 ton averaged grain people, paid $450,-000,000 for silver worth $252,000,000. These are the states which, one and all (save California and Oregon) threatened armed revolution because their sister states refused to take the whole of one of their less important products at two prices and told them to go to the regular market with their silver as well as their iumber and their grain. These are the people who have made a national issue and are now making an international wrangle of the question, not as to whether this single one of their ludustries should be suppressed, or even suspended, but as to whether they should receive a profit of 100 or 400 cent, on its product. tt is with no feeling of anger or scarcely of irritation that the rest of us -ive $39 Americans-contemplate the collected proof of the thoroughness with which we have been "done" by these $156 Americans, who have been crying all the time that we were eating them up with the interest on gold clause mortgages. Nay, it is with a more than autional, it is with a family pride. A pride which a thrifty Yankee father feels in being bested in a horse trade by his offspring, that we contemplate this magnificent record of bamboozlement. And when we realize the further fact that these brethren of ours, by plying threats of our repudiation of our foreign debts, have cozened the old lady of Threadneedle street into an offer to take some $35,000,000 of their wares off their handa, we fail prostrate in reverence before their argent shrine of St.

Two Kinds of Money. I believe as firmly in one measure of values as t do to one measure of weights and in one of length. The double atundintent. If we are to have two kinds of money of different raises, then some body is going to be overreached or defranded in every business transaction. The debtor will always pay in the cheaper kind of money, no matter which kind he may promise to pay in when he contracts his deht. The purchuser of goods or land ar other kinds of property will autumily tender in payment money of the lower standard of vaine and not of the higher standard. -E. V. Smalley.

Thansgiving Preclamation. Washington, Oct. 29.- President McKinley today issued his first Thanksgiving Day proclamation, as

"In remembrance of God's good ness to us during the past year, which has been so abundant, 'let us offer unto him our thanksgiving and pay our vows unto the most high." "Under his watchful providence industry has prospered, the couditions of labor have been improved, the rewards of the husbandman have been iucreased, and the comforts of our homes multiplied. Itis mighty hand has preserved peace and protected the nation. Respect for law and order has been strengthened, love for free institutions cherished, and all sections of our beloved country brought into closer hounds of traternal regard and generous co operation

"For these great Leuchts it is our duty to praise the Lord in a spirit of humility and gratitude, and to offer up to him our most earnest supplications. That we may acknowledge our obligation as a people to him who bas so graciously granted us the blessings of free government and material prosperity, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, for National Thanksgiving and prayer, which all the people are invited to observe with appropriate religious scrvlces in their respective places of worship On this day of rejoicing and domestic reunion let our prayers ascend to the giver of every good and perfect gilt for the continuance of his love and lavor to us, that our hearts may be filled with charity and good will, and that we may be every way worthy ot his beneficent concern. "In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the scal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this, 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand and eight hundred and ninety seven, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.

THRASHING OLD STRAW.

Silver Question ip Again in Ohio, fown oud Kentucky. The farmers of Ohlo, lown and Kentucky will be called upon this fall to rote ngain upon the silver question, the mme old question which they voted on tant foll, and which they no doubt thought at that time they were settling once for all. The silverites are reviving this issue in the hope of gaining for their party an Impetus this year which will enable it to earry the congressionat elections in 1898 and to secure the prealdeacy in 1900. There is nothing new in the question as it is now presented. Itwas fully discussed last year, but all the old arguments will be brought to the front once mora.

It will be well for the farming class and the other voters of these states to study the question afresh and ask the politicians what good the free calinge of allver can do us or our interests. They will be told first that times are still hard in the country and that the cause of them is the want of sufficient money-that more money is what is them uniferstand clearly that the colnage of more legal tender silver dollars will not increase the circulating medithat whenever a notion has attempted to make use of two kinds of money, differing In intrinsie or commercial value. the result has always been that the better kind of money disappeared from elrculation, leaving the poorer kind to oc-cupy the field. If it is provided by law that 412.5 grains of silver shall be colned free without limit and form a legal tender dollar, and that one-sixteenth of that weight of gold is also a legal tender dollar, then if the epcelfied amount of silver is worth less than the specified amount of gold, in the measurement of gold, all gold money at once disappears from circulation.

Immediately after the passage of such a law this country would lose about $500,000,000 of gold from the channels of trade. It would take severol years, rounlag the mints at their to make up for this loss of gold money. In the meantime there would be all the evlls of a heavy contraction of the curwould be forced to payment, and the farmers would find in the general tightmess of the money market the demand for their products would decrease and prices fall off.

There will be a great deal of the old talk about the blessings of bimetallism this year. Now, the fact is that the United States is already the greatest bimetallic country in the world except France. That is to say, while maintaining the gold standard of values, we use as money in this country more eliver than is used in any other civilized country in the world except France.

The ellver men do not wnot bimetallism. Their scheme does not look to that end. They demand a cheaper kind of money than gold standard money. This they expect to secure by forcing this country down to a silver basis, so we shall be not a bimetallic nation, but a monometable nation, using silver as our only metallic money. This is the condition of Mexico to-day, and It is held up to us by the silver men us the ideat situation .- Sound Money,

Why Gold flogs Rejotee. One of the silver organs usks maintively why the heartless goldbugs should eliver one of our products, it asks, and is not our national wealth reduced when silver goes down? It silver were treated as the commodity which it la, and there were not a strong political effort to upset business in order to give | source he gets his living. it, or try to give it, a fiethinus value, every gold standard man would be as sorry to see its price decline below the the silverites are trying to force silver into monetary use at a value far above its real worth, or to upset all prices and scale down all obligations, and bring about a commercial chaos, they must excuse the gold standard men for rejoleing in every incident that makes those injurious purposes more difficult of necomplishment, and the continued decline of sliver does that.

The cost of producing allver has been declining, and so far as the decline h Its celling price is responsive to this it ls not disastrous to the miner and is highly favorable to all persons who have occasion to use silver in the arts. und to this extent the decline is a publle benefit .- N. Y. Journal of Com-

Sliver Mines Owned in England. Mr. Edward Atkinson, who is in London, finds that three-fourths of all thu silver mines in the world, reckoned by producing power, are owned in that city. Silver is a large British interest, und free coluege in the United States is matually much desired by this interest.
